Scalewatcher®

The Simple Solution for Hard Water Problems

Scalewatcher Reference of Successful Applications

Scalewatcher®

History

In 1988 Mr. Jan P. de Baat Doelman developed and patented in the Netherlands the Scalewatcher technology. The Scalewatcher system was then introduced by the mother company B & D Ingenieursburo BV, in The Netherlands to the European, South African, American and Middle East market.

Scalewatcher in America

With immediate market success, Mr. De Baat Doelman brought the technology to the United States, applied and received a patent. From that moment on, Scalewatcher North America Inc. has been on the forefront of environmentally-sensitive water treatment for markets in the United States and North and South America.

Scalewatcher in Asia

To cover the markets in Asia, Scalewatcher Vietnam Ltd and Scalewatcher (Thailand) Co., Ltd, where established.

Mission

The Scalewatcher Group focuses on the elimination of scale and the problems associated with scale build up. Industries know the costs involved in keeping their capital investments running smooth. Scalewatcher is there to help. Scaled cooling towers, chillers, and associated equipment can negatively impact a company's bottom line, and not just in cash. The caustic chemicals used to remove scale only create more problems with the environment.

Scalewatcher continues to lead the industry in descaling products that do no harm to the environment. No matter what the application, pipe size, pipe material, flow rate or TDS level is, Scalewatcher can handle it all. With distributors, dealers and agents around the world, Scalewatcher is your simple solution to hard water problems!

Our message to you

As regulations tighten and costs soar on energy and water usage, Scalewatcher products can help you save on energy and water! Savings beyond imagination can be obtained if all cooling towers, chillers, evaporator condensers and fire tube boilers, and many other water related equipment step up to Scalewatcher technology.

Special thanks

Thank you to all our distributors, dealers and agents around the world for sharing their experience, references and testimonials. Without your help we would not have been able to combine this booklet and share it with you! Of course we are always looking forward to receiving more information for the expansion of this reference booklet.

Note: This selected listing shows only a few of end users who have given us permission to use their company names in our reference book. Many companies today have confidentiality provisions and Scalewatcher respects those requests.
